The Black Boy Inn, Caernarfon

Description:

The Black Boy Inn is a 16th century inn within the old town walls of Caernarfon and one of the most popular venues within the town.

The Ap Thomas Partnership was employed to provide professional guidance on major refurbishment works and adaptations. These works had to be carried out whilst the premises – including the kitchen and restaurant - remained operational.

Local tradesmen and contractors have been employed for the works and, with the co-operation of the building control officers from Gwynedd Council, the project is now approaching a successful completion.
